The significance of the occasion stems from an unusual family background. Mr. Barriaga's mother was a native of San Stefano, Italy, where she met and married another Italian, a Mr. Lombardi. After the marriage, Mr. Lombardi took his new bride to settle in Columbia, South America, where they had four children, three sons and one daughter, Luis, Carlos, Eduardo and Sylvia. FRANKLIN MOORE AWARD WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Jean Sloop and David Hamme have been announced as the recipients of the Franklin Moore award for 1953 at Gettysburg College.

The award is to be given to "the member of the graduating class of Gettysburg College who, throughout his or her four years as an undergraduate, has shown the highest degree of good citizenship; and, who, by his or her character, industry, enterprise, initiative, and personal activities, has contributed the most toward campus morale and the prestige of Gettysburg College." The amount of the prize is the income from a $6,500 endowment.

Presented June 3

The awards will be presented on June 3 at the Hotel Gettysburg at a special dinner given by Henry M. Scharf, manager of the hotel. This is the third annual dinner of this type.

Mr. Moore, in whose honor this award is given, is president and managing director of the Pennsylvania Synod of the Central Pennsylvania Synod, will be one of the speakers at Town Hall, Philadelphia, May 26, at a formal exchange of churches of the Central Pennsylvania Synod and the Ministerium of Pennsylvania.

Eighty-one of the 82 Central Pennsylvania Synod churches in the proposed ministerium territory will become Ministerium churches, while 106 of the Ministerium churches will be transferred to the Synod, Dr. Gresh said. Dr. Gresh was a member of the committee which has been working on the realignment problem for five years before becoming chairman of the committee.

Churches Here Unaffected

The move is designed to eliminate the overlapping between the two church groups, Dr. Gresh said. The two synods, lying almost entirely within Pennsylvania, have a combined membership of 500,000, one-fourth the total ULCA number, Dr. Gresh said.

FIREMEN HELP STRICKEN MAN

The firemen's first aid class had an opportunity to demonstrate its skill at Thursday night's session at the fire engine house.

John Riddle, instructor, was teaching the students — firemen from throughout the county — in the Civil Defense-Red Cross-Firemen's sponsored class when a 64-year-old transient, gasping for breath, came to the fire house.

The transient, Dennis O'Rourke, told the group, after he recovered, that he was enroute to Harrisburg, after seeking Veterans Administration aid for an asthma and heart condition at Washington.

The former Canadian Navy sailor went to the fire house, he said, because he believed there might be oxygen there. When he arrived gasping, the first aid class and Borough Health Officer Donald Staub went into action.

A resuscitator was removed from one of the fire trucks, a stretcher was secured and Dr. David Stoner, fire company physician, was called. O'Rourke also received financial aid. Learning that he had been hitchhiking to Harrisburg, some members of the class pooled funds and contributed money for bus fare to the capital city.

FINISH BOROUGH CLEANUP TODAY

The borough highway department will complete the annual spring cleanup in Gettysburg today. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, borough engineer, announced.

More than 300 truckloads of ashes and refuse have been collected and disposed of by borough employees since the cleanup started on May 1, Mr. Winebrenner said. Three trucks were assigned to the job, and made three complete trips, covering the entire borough.

Today, Mr. Winebrenner said, trucks made a fourth and final pickup, picking up any refuse which might have been placed late for other collections.

The annual cleanup, paint up and fix up campaign this year was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Board of Health and the Highway Department.

JAYCEES WILL BACK ANTIQUE SHOW IN JUNE

The Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the antique show to be held in connection with the Pennsylvania Dutch Days Celebration here June 26 and 27. It was decided by the Jaycees at their meeting Thursday evening in the council chambers at the fire engine house.

Francis Small was named general chairman for the antique show, which will be held in the Hotel Gettysburg annex. Decision was made to sponsor the show after John Byers, president of the Adams County Arts and Crafts Guild, appeared before the group to outline the general plans for the two-day Pennsylvania Dutch festival. Small will appoint the other members of his committee within the next few days.

Tour For Home Guests

Plans were outlined for the membership of the Junior Chamber to gather, with their cars, at the county home on Sunday afternoon to take those guests desiring to do so on a tour of selected sites in the county. The tour will begin from the county home at 12:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Francis Small, as chairman of the "Clean Up-ix Up-Paint Up" campaign of the Junior Chamber, reported that "the community has done well in all phases of the campaign. We want to express our appreciation to LeRoy Winebrenner and the borough workmen for the manner in which they conducted the removal of debris placed in the alleys during the campaign. And we want to thank all those who cooperated in cleaning out their cellars and attics, painting homes and garages, and otherwise helping to make ours a cleaner and better community in which to live."

Donald Trone was appointed to represent the Jaycees on the Lincoln Memorial committee being formed by the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce.

Plans were announced to hold a May 28 dinner session.

More Than Month's Supply Of Rain Fell In First Fifteen Days

It's unlikely that anyone would need figures to be convinced, but rainfall for the first 15 days of May here has amounted to more than Gettysburg receives in an entire month of May — a normal one, that is.

This morning's thundershowers put the current rainfall total for May over the four-inch mark and normal for May here through the last half of century is 3.92 inches. The total for May up to 8:30 a.m. when the daily observation was made at The Gettysburg Times weather station was 4.12 inches with every indication that more rain would fall later in the day. It was raining then, in fact.

Measurable amounts of rain have fallen on nine of the first 15 days this month.

Farm Work Delayed

Farm work is being delayed. Considerable plowing remains to be done and fields that have been plowed are too wet to be cultivated or planted. Fields already planted are badly in need of sunshine.

Gardeners are complaining about the frequent rains that are delaying their planting plans or preventing late gardens from getting started.

CITES BENEFITS OF COUNTY CLUBS TO COMMUNITY

"Clubs are the community," Attorney Carl A. Cassone, secretary of the Pennsylvania Federation of Social and Fraternal Organizations, told the Adams County Social and Fraternal Organization Thursday evening at its annual banquet at the Albert J. Lentz American Legion post home, Baltimore St.

"An estimated 1,500,000 Pennsylvania men belong to the nearly 5,000 fraternal and social organizations in the state," Cassone said. "Actually the total membership of the clubs, according to a survey, is 2,500,000, but we reduce that figure by 1,000,000 because many belong to two or three organizations."

"Because the clubs are the community, made up of leaders of the community, they are active in community affairs. They contribute to their community in hundreds of ways, from special projects, to financial backing of every good cause. As an example, here in Adams County, your county association is sponsoring a directory of the social work in the county. In a true sense it is not the clubs, but the community doing the work through their organizations."

Social Features

"In addition to the clubs' charitable and community work, there is also the social feature of the organizations. The community secures much innocent pleasure through the dances, shows, picnics and the fellowship of the clubs. And through the profits derived by the clubs from these activities of their members the community is helped in yet another way."

"The profits are used to meet payrolls, to pay taxes, to make purchases of food and equipment, all of which helps the economy of the community, in addition to providing the funds for the charitable and community work."

"Always Intolerant"

TELLS STORY OF LOURDES SHRINE TO LOCAL WOMEN

"The story of Lourdes, France, is a mystery, and to comprehend it even a little, faith is exacted of all," declared Dr. Edward I. Fenlon, professor of philosophy at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, before a joint assembly of the National Council of Catholic Women and the Mother's Club at St. Francis Xavier's School Thursday evening.

In a two-hour talk supplemented with colored slides depicting the pilgrimage from Paris to Lourdes, which he had taken, Dr. Fenlon explained the meaning of the word "miracle" as taught by the philosophers. "Some people believe in miracles and some don't," he said. "But it is a subject which should not be kept in cold storage."

He said it is "something done by God that nature can never do."

He told of how hundreds of thousands of people go to Lourdes every year to visit the grotto near the River Gave, "the scene of 18 apparitions in 1858 of the Blessed Virgin to a little peasant girl named Bernadette Soubirous, now known as St. Bernadette. Since that time thousands upon thousands of cures have been wrought, which is evidenced by many discarded canes and crutches hanging about the grotto."

Leopold Loses Freedom Plea

CHICAGO (AP)—Nathan Leopold, 58, jazz age thrill slayer of 14-year-old Bobby Franks, has lost his first bid for freedom from gray-walled Stateville Penitentiary.

The Illinois Board of Pardons and Paroles yesterday rejected Leopold's application, announcing he "is not the right type of man to go back to society."

Leopold's world has been Stateville and the old Joliet Prison for 28 years—since he and his University of Chicago classmate, Richard Loeb, were convicted of killing their young neighbor to relieve their boredom with life as pampered, brilliant sons of well-to-do parents.

Their trial was one of the sensations of the '20s.

The defendants were sentenced to 99-year prison terms. Loeb was knifed to death in 1936 by a fellow prisoner in Stateville.

COMMISSIONERS ARE LAUDED BY HOME AUXILIARY

A resolution commending the Adams County Commissioners for seeking to secure an over-all plan for development of the County Home was passed Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the Adams County Home Auxiliary held at the Court House.

The resolution observed that "Whereas the need for replacement of the administration building at the County Home has been brought to the attention of the commissioners; and whereas the need for replacement of the other old buildings at the County Home has been also called to their attention; and whereas the County Commissioners, in view of these present and future needs, have taken action for the presentation of an over-all plan for the development of the entire County Home area over a period of years, therefore be it resolved that the Adams County Home Auxiliary go on record in commending the County Commissioners for taking this action and pledge its support to this undertaking."

Elect Mrs. Klinefelter

Mrs. Lloyd Klinefelter, Biglerville, was elected vice president of the auxiliary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Grant Corbin.

Reports at Thursday's meeting disclosed that a number of organizations have provided sums toward the fund to provide ice cream as a special treat for the guests and attendants at the home. The fund was planned when a number of organizations "overlapped" in gifts of ice cream, and the home was presented on one day with more ice cream than could be eaten, and then a long period elapsed before any organizations provided the delicacy. Under the plan the individuals or organizations donate to the ice (Continued on Page 2)

Fenlon, professor of philosophy at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, before a joint assembly of the National Council of Catholic Women and the Mother's Club at St. Francis Xavier's School Thursday evening.

In a two-hour talk supplemented with colored slides depicting the pilgrimage from Paris to Lourdes, which he had taken, Dr. Fenlon explained the meaning of the word "miracle" as taught by the philosophers. "Some people believe in miracles and some don't," he said. "But it is a subject which should not be kept in cold storage."

He said it is "something done by God that nature can never do."

He told of how hundreds of thousands of people go to Lourdes every year to visit the grotto near the River Gave, "the scene of 18 apparitions in 1858 of the Blessed Virgin to a little peasant girl named Bernadette Soubirous, now known as St. Bernadette. Since that time thousands upon thousands of cures have been wrought, which is evidenced by many discarded canes and crutches hanging about the grotto."

To Make Pilgrimage

Dr. Fenlon, who has made frequent trips to Europe, is a former teacher at St. Mary's College, Calif.; Brooklyn College, N. Y., and Loyola College, Baltimore. He is a native of San Francisco.

More Than Month's Supply Of Rain Fell In First Fifteen Days

It's unlikely that anyone would need figures to be convinced, but rainfall for the first 15 days of May here has amounted to more than Gettysburg receives in an entire month of May — a normal one, that is.

This morning's thundershowers put the current rainfall total for May over the four-inch mark and normal for May here through the last half of century is 3.92 inches. The total for May up to 8:30 a.m. when the daily observation was made at The Gettysburg Times weather station was 4.12 inches with every indication that more rain would fall later in the day. It was raining then, in fact.

Measurable amounts of rain have fallen on nine of the first 15 days this month.

Farm Work Delayed

Farm work is being delayed. Considerable plowing remains to be done and fields that have been plowed are too wet to be cultivated or planted. Fields already planted are badly in need of sunshine.

Gardeners are complaining about the frequent rains that are delaying their planting plans or preventing late gardens from getting started.

"Politicians who are demagogues cater to them, and attempt to pass laws to put straits on social behavior. As Prohibition has shown, this will not work, for it is against human nature. Such restraints lead to disrespect of the law, with resultant corruption and laxity in government. Some people never learn. One would think Prohibition would have been lesson enough.

"The intolerance shown by some groups is typical of the Russian concept. The Russians do not even try to find out what other people think. They are intolerant to the highest degree. They like only one view, and will not tolerate any others.

Churchill's Proposal Is Shift In Position And Evidence That New Russ Policy Drives Wedge

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill's sudden proposal that the big Western leaders, presumably Churchill and President Eisenhower meet, was not only of major importance. It represented a change in Churchill's position. That he could make this move, so far as is known, without telling this country doesn't speak well for the closeness of the relationship between the Eisenhower administration and the Churchill government in Britain.

Wedge Between Allies

But the fact that it happened in the way it did is proof that the Russians under Malenkov by a simple shift in tactics—from talking tough to talking nice—accomplished something Stalin didn't in years of being nasty.

They have been able to drive a wedge, no matter how small, between the Western Allies. Churchill well knew Eisenhower's position on Russian talk of peace, which began after Stalin's death, since the President had previously stated it publicly.

Cites Developments

That he'd be glad to sit down with the Russians to work out peace, provided they first showed by something more positive than words that they were sincere in wanting peace.

At his news conference yesterday Eisenhower said he had not yet seen any evidence of Russia's good faith.

Churchill himself, in his proposal this week, didn't attempt to point to Russian deeds as evidence of good intentions. Rather, he said recent friendly gestures from the Kremlin had impressed him.

In fact, he said he was far more impressed by developments inside Russia since Stalin's death than by what had been happening outside.

Basic Difference

So the basic difference between Churchill and Eisenhower on this latest twist in Russian tactics seems to be that Churchill is willing to accept peace talk as peaceful intentions while Eisenhower wants some proof.

Churchill's present position is a shift for him, too. Before the British elections in 1951 he promised, if he became Prime Minister, that he would seek a talk and understanding with the Russian leaders.

But, once in office, he backed away from the idea. His British Laborite opposition repeatedly challenged him to carry out his promise but he said the time was not right.

Seeds Of Danger

As if in explanation of his own shift, Churchill this week said the "supreme" event of the last few months was the change of attitude and, he hoped, a change in mood that had taken place in the Kremlin.

Churchill certainly knew that his proposal contained some seeds of danger for Allied harmony, that he might cause America's friends to distrust its intentions and doubt its leadership.

Why did he take this step? A number of reasons spring to mind, any of which might be the right one:

The evening was concluded with the reading of a poem "God Be Kind to Mothers" by Mrs. Clapsaddle.

A color scheme of green and yellow was used in the candle and flower arrangements. Yellow snapdragons and daisies decorated the tables. A bouquet of white snapdragons and red roses, which was used on the speakers' table, was presented by Miss Caroline Rupp and was given to Mrs. C. Tyson Tipton as being the oldest mother present.

Mrs. Mary Foth also received a bouquet for being the next to the oldest mother present.

Each guest received a nosegay of red rosebuds and white carnations. Favors were mother and daughter figures carrying miniature bouquets in their lace pockets.

to make a world peace settlement; self-consciousness about not having carried out his campaign promise; a desire to show that while Britain might be second-fiddle to the U. S., it was still a world power capable of leadership of its own; perhaps a feeling that Eisenhower was being too much influenced by isolationist forces in this country.

Clement Attlee, leader of the Laborites, praised Churchill's proposal in a speech of his own one day later and said he thought Eisenhower was a captive of forces in this country which wanted no settlement with Russia.

Attlee was critical of this country and, in being so, may have proved himself short-sighted. He was denounced in Congress. The time may come when he will again be Britain's Prime Minister and have to depend on the U. S. Congress for help.

LONG-AWAITED MARCIANO AND WALCOTT FIGHT COMES TONIGHT

CHICAGO (AP)—Undeclared Rocky Marciano, the youthful slugger, defends his heavyweight title against ex-champion Jersey Joe Walcott, the ancient boxer, in a long-awaited 15-round rematch at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

The two fighters, held at bay since a nose injury to Marciano postponed an original April 10 meeting, were to weigh in at 12 noon (EST) for their nationally televised bout at 9 p. m.

Despite their classic first encounter at Philadelphia last Sept. 23 when a trailing Marciano dethroned Walcott with a pulverizing 13th round knockout, the assault on the box-office has been disappointingly light.

43 Victories, No Losses

Attendance in the 20,000-seat Stadium may range between 13,000 and 15,000 and the gate—even with more than 9,000 "ringside" seats selling at $50 each—needed a last-minute spurt to hit $450,000.

The fact the fight has been so long in the making has spun cobwebs around such pertinent facts as:

1. The 28-year-old Marciano is seeking his 44th pro victory without defeat in his first title defense.
2. The 39-year-old Walcott, in his eighth title appearance, is trying to become the first man ever to recapture the heavyweight crown.

Remember Payoff Punch

3. Even though Marciano is a strong 3 to 1 favorite, the rugged Brockton Bomber was far behind on points and dumped for the first time in his career before his tremendous right to Walcott's jaw ended the last party.

That ponderous smash to the jaw has been described as one of the greatest blows in boxing history, ending as it did perhaps the most savage heavyweight title bout since the memorable Dempsey-Firpo battle.

It is recollection of that punch that gives Marciano almost unanimous support of boxing writers to repeat by a knockout, although active ringmen believe generally that Walcott can box Marciano into defeat.

$250,000 Guarantee

Walcott has forfeited his right to a 30 per cent. slice of the net gate and TV receipts of $300,000 for a flat $250,000 guarantee. But with the sag in ticket sales, the former champion is expected to fare better than Marciano whose 30 per cent. hunk may approximate $200,000.

The experts, almost to a man, think Jersey Joe's aging legs cannot carry him 15 rounds which they feel must be done to beat Marciano.

A referee and two judges, to be named at fight time, will score the bout under Illinois rules which provide for a 10-point per round system. An even round is 5-5 and the margin for a winner varies from 6-4 to 8-2. Total points determine the winner in a bout which goes the limit.

GAME POSTPONED

The Littlestown-Delone Catholic High School baseball game scheduled to be played at Brunshtown Thursday was postponed due to wet grounds. On Wednesday the teams battled to a 6-6 deadlock at Littlestown in the play off of a postponed game from May 7.

APOLOGY TO WORK

I must apologize to work
For what I said
When I'd had the mad desire to shirk
And stay in bed.
I often called the road too long.
The load too great—when I was strong.

When I was tired, 'twas work I blamed.
The truth to tell,
And now to think it, I'm ashamed.
Then, I was well!
Now, change of heart and mind
I'd show

If back to work they'd let me go.
Life, you can have your daily nap.
Your hours of rest.
I have become a wiser chap
Who thinks work best.
And since I'm getting well again,
Of work I'll never more complain.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

STARS AND VIOLETS

Nature is so full of contrasting beauty. There is the glory of the heavens, concealing most of its wonder, but suggesting enough to keep us humble and reverent. And then we have the good earth, its chemical substances feeding the tiniest visitor as the springtime makes its announcements far and wide. Even the smiles of the tiny violets look up to the stars, and share an understanding.

Nothing in all the year thrills me as does the springtime. Recreation, it all seems to be. And yet it is only a new celebration of older ones. God created a variety of human beings, so that there would be little dullness in the world for those anxious to learn and distribute knowledge. I know that I shall never cease to wonder over the beauty of this earth, and all that it inspires.

I was talking recently with a friend who had just returned from the scenes in California, where John Muir, the naturalist, spent so many years of his life. He told of how Muir had roamed the mountains, the glaciers, the valleys, and the thick woods. He knew the call of every bird wherever he went. And he went alone, as a rule, and was never lonely. There is something magnetic about everything in nature that creates kinship with us.

Anyone who has listened to the song of the mockingbird in the Southland has listened to something that takes a permanent place in the heart every afterwards. What a heritage is to live in a world where stars shine, violets bloom wild in the woodland, and mockingbirds sing us to sleep! Nature is a wonderful teacher. Both the animals and birds live happily together. Only as they are disturbed do they offer resistance. The stars stay in their appointed places. Why can't human beings do the same? It was never meant that people should interfere and fight one another.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "In Quest of a Friend"

SOME SENATORS SPLIT WITH IKE ON RED CHINA'S UN MEMBERSHIP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several senators displayed little liking today for President Eisenhower's stated position on possible admission of Red China into the United Nations in the event a truce is reached in Korea.

The President told his news conference yesterday he would not now say that admission of the Peiping Communist regime to the U. N. should follow an armistice. He did not add that he would oppose China's admission under any circumstances.

Some lawmakers said they saw a possibility the President may have left the gate ajar for future compromises.

Bridges Opposed
Among these, Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said he is categorically opposed either to U. S. recognition of Communist China or to its U. N. admission under any circumstances.

"I think this country should absolutely oppose at every point their admission to the U. N.," Bridges declared.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), a foreign relations committee member, said if Red China gets into the U. N. "all Asia is lost and that includes Korea, Burma, Indochina and Indonesia and I don't like to think what would happen to Japan."

Storm In Senate
Suggestions by British leaders Clement Attlee and Sir Winston Churchill that Red China be given a U. N. seat if there is a Korean armistice have touched off a storm in the Senate which could result in some drastic cuts in foreign aid allotments to Britain.

Bridges, who heads the Senate Appropriations Committee, said the controversy is "bound to affect action on foreign aid funds" and Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, observed that the row "won't do the British any good" on that score.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Schottie's Hotel. At this session, the Jaycees will further plans for the annual summer music festival to be held Friday, July 31, on Memorial Field.

McCarthy-Attlee Shouting Match Sparks New Flurry In Headlines

LONDON (AP)—The transatlantic shouting match between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee sparked a rash of fresh headlines and anti-American comment today in the British press.

Two pro-Labor newspapers printed front-page editorials upholding Attlee's right to say there are "elements" in America which oppose a Korean settlement. Other newspapers with varying political viewpoints plainly indicated their sympathies lay with the Labor party's leader.

President Eisenhower's conciliatory remarks at his weekly press conference were all but lost in the shuffle. The President said he did not think the rift between Britain and the U. S. over dealings with Russia and Korean policy is as wide as it might appear.

Moscow Watches Closely
Although this drew little attention in London, Moscow's two principal newspapers—Pravda and Izvestia—carried identical 186-word summaries of the Eisenhower statements in today's editions. Neither paper offered any comment, however.

The publication of the summaries emphasized again the extremely close attention Moscow is giving developments in Britain and the United States since the start of the current Soviet peace drive.

Russian papers devoted nearly a page yesterday to the foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons earlier this week—the biggest play a British parliamentary discussion has won in the Soviet press in years.

Lambast McCarthy
In London today both the Independent leftist Daily Mirror and the Laborite Daily Herald lambasted McCarthy for in effect demanding that Britain apologize for Attlee's remarks.

In addition to his charge that certain U. S. elements did not want a Korean peace, the former British Prime Minister said that "sometimes one wonders who is the more powerful, the President (Eisenhower) or Senator McCarthy."

In a statement last night, Attlee denied that he had attacked America, Americans or the American Constitution.

The Labor party chief said he had given in his speech "a factual account of certain features of the American Constitution, notably the

PITCHERS SHINE IN EASTERN LOOP

By The Associated Press
Baseball men often refer to the Eastern League as a pitcher's league. If you want proof, look at last night's games:

One scoreless duel that broke up in the 13th inning; two-four hit shutouts, and assorted three and four-hit pitching jobs.

In fact, only 21 runs were scored and 51 hits allowed in last night's five games. This included one 11-run victory and a 10-hit attack by another team.

The extra-inning marathon was at Elmira where Ed Yasinski and Scranton's Dick Welteroth locked horns.

4-1 Hit Shutout
Each gave up but six hits and six walks. But one of Welteroth's walks proved his downfall. He gave it to Ken Worley, who led off the 13th. Yasinski sacrificed him to second. The next batter popped out. Fred Storck was walked to get at Clyde McNeal. But McNeal dropped a Texas League single into left center to end the ball game.

It was Yasinski's first victory of the season against one defeat. The loss was Welteroth's fourth against no victories.

Bob Brake pitched a four-hit shutout against Reading at Albany, good for a 1-0 triumph. Herb Croce, Cleveland's $60,000 bonus baby, gave up only three hits, but walked 10.

In the second game the Indians came back with 11 runs on eight hits for an 11-2 victory, and kept a half-game league lead. Albany was held to three hits by Floyd Penfield and Buddy Daley. Penfield was credited with his third victory of the year.

SPECIAL FISHING

Season Is Opened

BELLEFONTAINE, Pa. (AP)—Hundreds of anglers today opened a special trout season at Fisherman's Paradise, a one-mile stretch of nearby Spring Creek.

C. A. French, executive director of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, was among fishermen and women lining the Centre County stream when the special season opened, it ends July 18.

The creek had been stocked by the Fish Commission with rainbow, brook and brown trout.

A maximum of 10 fish may be caught daily by each angler but only one may be kept and it must be at least 10 inches long. The others must be tossed back into the waters.

The only qualifications for fishing are a Pennsylvania fishing license plus a no-fee registration.

Wading in the stream is banned. So is the use of spinners, spoons or swivels.

Pennsylvania's regular 107-day trout season began April 15.

60 Little Leaguers Bought By Four Managers; Schedule Practices Monday At 6:30

Sixty youngsters were "purchased" from a group of approximately 125 for participation in the Little League by the four managers at an "auction" conducted Thursday evening by Ira Kerr, player agent. Managers had previously watched the youngsters during drills the past two weeks.

Officials in charge of the league were quick to point out that those selected will not necessarily remain on team rosters for the remainder of the season. Those not selected Thursday evening will be welded into a "minor" league and they may move up into the Little League if their play is of sufficient quality to replace those already selected.

Practices for the four teams have been scheduled for Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock and it is very important that each boy report for drills. Sites for the workouts will be as follows: Moose and Rotary, on the Gettysburg High School diamond; Glenn L. Bream Garage and Lions, on the college field at the rear of the tennis courts.

Why a short trip means better hay...

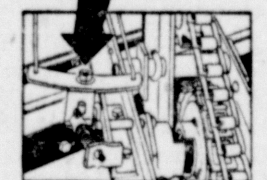

DEARBORN SIDE DELIVERY RAKE
moves hay only 8 feet — saves more leaves

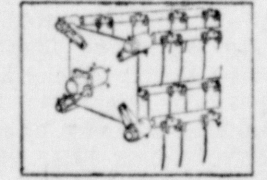

The less hay is handled during raking, the better that hay is going to be. And because it moves hay about 8 feet on the average, instead of the usual 11 feet, the Dearborn Side Delivery Rake goes a long way toward making a more profitable crop.

This implement gently turns hay over, tucking the leaves inside—exposing the stems to sun and wind for quick, thorough curing. The result? Better, richer hay that's more valuable to you... and faster haying, too.

THE COMING OF THE LORD

I Thessalonians 5:1-11; 14-23
Key Verse: God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ. I Thessalonians 5:9.

"When I go to prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself." With these words (John 14:3) Jesus assured His disciples that He would return. Nor is this the only reference we have in the Scripture on the second coming of Christ. He spoke of it several times. The apostles proclaimed it with confidence and joy. The subject has a prominent place in the new Testament. It is found in the Apostles' Creed: "He shall come to judge the quick and the dead." The prediction is of an event when the Lord will appear "in the glory of His Father, with His Angels."

Predictions have been made from time to time as to the exact date when the Lord would return. But they all have failed. Some are fearful of the coming event because of the judgment to be declared. Others are joyful because of the prospect of being with the Lord. No one knows the time of His coming, not even the Lord himself, but the Father.

Scholars have spoken of a "partial" coming. This in critical periods of the nations and of the Kingdom of God. But particularly in the death of an individual believer when he enters through the gateway of the resurrection into the presence of his Lord.

Paul found it necessary frequently to teach about the second coming of Christ. The Thessalonian Christians had difficulty to understand. So in his first letter to them he gave helpful counsel, Paul had been in that city for only a short time when a riot broke out against him. He left for Berea. Later from Corinth he wrote to the Thessalonian friends. His two letters are valuable to Church historians, but they also have value for correct thinking and living in any age and for all people. He discusses the second coming.

First, do not concern yourself about the time. No one, except the Father, knows the time. "It will come like a thief in the night." But you are not children of the night and darkness, he continues; you are children of the light. He commends them, but also warns them. His warning is about the night. It is a time for sleep. For some, however, it is also a time for drunkenness and immorality. But since you are children of the day be serious about your life.

Let faith and love and hope be your armor against temptations that attack. God has created and destined you for His own through the saving grace of the Lord Jesus. It is possible to live with Him night or day. Paul pictures a good and joyous life. It is a requisite for any one who would be prepared for the second coming.

Paul urges a life of action. He has a word for almost any condition that may be found among the brethren: "Admonish the idle, encourage the faint-hearted, help the weak, be patient with them all."

The overtone of Paul's letter is of joy, peace and hopeful expectation. All the high hopes that Jesus had raised by His teaching and loving acts would be realized upon His return. The joy of the faithful would be completed. It would be continuous, for they would live in His presence and the angels. All the present difficulties of the life in this human existence would be overcome. There is much mystery about the second coming. But the prediction of the event was made by Christ himself. Remember that

He made other predictions. He would die and rise again from the dead. We have reason to believe that just as these predictions were fulfilled so His coming again is certain. The Christian will live in that expectation. He will make his best preparation by living as if in the presence of Christ even now. Jesus! The very thought of Thee With sweetness fills the breast; But sweeter far Thy face to see, And in Thy presence rest.

UNHURT IN CRASH

Two women escaped injury Thursday afternoon when cars they were driving figured in a collision on Rt. 34, just south of Carlisle. Mrs. Paul E. Klepper of Mechanicsburg R. 2, and Arlene M. Hulick of Gardners R. D., were unhurt, according to Carlisle State Police, who investigated the accident.

ARE THE CLOUDS BREAKING?

No one doubts that we are living in troubled times. Few generations have faced such a constant threat of war; none has known such appalling weapons of destruction. A storm of terror threatens to engulf the world.

Yet, there are some who see signs that the clouds may be breaking. They point to crowded churches . . . Sunday Schools with record enrollment . . . tremendous demand for the new translation of the Bible. They reason that such concern for the spiritual realities of life is certain to have effect on the course of our history.

Whether we share their optimism or not, there is no denying the premise on which it is based. Though we cannot read the future, we can read the past. Man's hope of peace and happiness, in national and in personal life, has always rested upon spiritual foundations.

People who want the peace of God must turn to God to find it!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Truce Negotiations Make No Progress; Neither Side Will Budge From Positions

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Korean truce negotiations got nowhere today as both sides refused to budge from their separate proposals for exchanging war prisoners.

Apparently, only hope kept the talks alive. The Allies have threatened to break off negotiations again if the Reds won't bargain on the last major barrier to a truce.

U. S. officials want to probe every corner of the Communist position for any possible basis for agreement.

Today's hour and 20-minute session brought only restatements that neither side accepts the other's views on what to do with 48,500 Red prisoners who refuse to go back to communism.

Another meeting is scheduled for 11 a. m. tomorrow (9 p. m. Friday, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., chief Allied delegate, said the Communists either "misunderstood or deliberately misinterpreted" the latest Allied plan, offered two days ago and snubbed sharply by the Reds Thursday.

The Reds proposed May 7 that a five-nation neutral commission—India, Sweden, Switzerland, Poland and Czechoslovakia—take custody for four months of all prisoners who won't go home. During this time, the Reds would make "explanations." The future of those still refusing would be left to a post-armistice political conference. The Allies suggested that India head the five-nation commission and supply all troops to control the prisoners. They also proposed

His Third Accident Brings Code Charges

Mechanicsburg police said Thursday that Kenneth E. Myers, of Dillsburg R. 3, was charged with a violation of the motor code following his third accident in the borough at about 3:10 a. m. Thursday.

Officers, investigating the accident, said that Myers' car hit the parked car of John C. McWilliams, Mechanicsburg, and that he attempted to leave the scene of the accident. However, the officers, summoned immediately by an unidentified neighbor, apprehended him as he was proceeding along Marble St. in his car with a damaged headlight and front end.

Myers was first involved in an accident in Mechanicsburg in August, 1952, when he failed to negotiate a curve in W. Marble St. at the Williams Grove Rd. His second accident took place Feb. 22 at the intersection at Factory and Market Sts. when his car and a car driven by Mrs. Alice Walker, of Mechanicsburg R. 1, collided.

that 34,000 North Koreans who went back, be freed when an armistice is signed. The remaining 14,500 Chinese would be put in custody of the commission for two months. Any then still refusing repatriation would be freed.

In New Delhi, Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru endorsed the Red proposal, saying it "seemed to afford a promising, solid basis for a solution of the immediate problems."

SMOKELESS BROILING

It's great to come home—after an afternoon out—to a dinner ready to serve. And you can—with automatic GAS cooking.

Sometimes, though, it's great to have a broiled dinner. Then you'll want to broil meats without worrying about smoke, or about keeping the oven door open.

Why Only Gas Broils without Smoke

It's the flame. Flame eats up smoke. Prove it to yourself. Touch a lighted match to cigarette smoke. See how the flame consumes the smoke. That's what a GAS FLAME does to any smoke coming off the meat while it's broiling.

So clean, too!

This no-smoke feature of GAS means cleaner walls, cleaner drapes. And when you cook with GAS, pan bottoms, too, stay clean.

The next time you find yourself alongside a new Cadillac at the traffic light—take a good look at the gentleman behind the wheel.

The odds are overwhelming that you'll see a man relaxed and at ease.

For serenity is part and parcel of the great experience of driving a 1953 Cadillac. In fact, owners frequently take to the highway just for the relaxation the car provides.

And well they might. For here, beyond all question, is one of the surest therapeutics for the tension of work-a-day life!

Just sitting there in the driver's seat is enough to put a man at ease. The cushions are deep and luxurious and restful . . . the wheel is perfectly positioned for the driver's hands . . . and beauty and comfort and spaciousness are in every direction.

And driving a Cadillac is as restful as sitting in a Cadillac.

That great, powerful engine responds as if by magic . . . carrying the car in and out of traffic almost as quickly and as easily as the driver makes his decision to do so. Steering is feather-light and effortless . . . and braking calls only for the slightest pressure from the daintiest foot.

Of course, if the driver has chosen a Cadillac Air Conditioner* for his car, he refreshes as he relaxes. With a simple adjustment of a single lever, he can lower the car's interior to any normal temperature he desires—even in the warmest weather.

Yes, it's little wonder that the man in the Cadillac always looks so comfortable and happy and relaxed. In plain fact—he is!

Wouldn't it be wonderful to find such satisfaction in your own motoring? Of course it would—and that's why we suggest that you come in for a personal demonstration.

We'll gladly put you behind the wheel—for the most relaxing hour you ever spent on the highway.

*Optional at extra cost.

Poison Ivy Is Plague Of All Amateur Gardeners With An Allergy; Steer Clear Of It

By MICHAELA S. PYLE

There is always one sure way to spot a good gardener. He's the one without the ivy poisoning. The good gardener, however, is not necessarily the one with the most enthusiasm. Nevertheless, regardless of his degree of energy, he has acquired a great amount of common sense from his experience in turning the sod.

The enthusiastic gardener usually has little, if any, good judgment. First, the seeds are so small, and he finds himself, in mid-summer, weeding the rows on his hands and knees because he failed to provide enough space between the rows for a cultivator. Secondly, if he finds a strange root in the ground in the process of preparing his garden for planting, he withers picks it up and tosses it over the fence where it is bound to sprout and grow into a robust clump of three-leafed foliage, or he lays down his hoe so that the handle touches it. If he is especially new at gardening, he may even decide the root is sassafras and be overcome by the desire to refresh himself by biting off the end of the root and chewing it.

Avoid Back-Breaking Work

The good gardener, on the other hand, spaces his rows to allow ample room for mechanical cultivation. That's one of the things that makes him a good gardener. He avoids the backbreaking labor of gardening through sensible planning, and so still has enough energy left at harvest time to pick his vegetables.

And he, should he uncover a strange root in the ground, either leaves it there or kicks it aside with the toe of his shoe. But he never, never, never picks it up in his hands and tosses it over the fence. This is not primarily because he wants to get along with his neighbor — although good domestic relations are advantageous, especially if you neighbor has a few chickens or a Great Dane — but rather because the root is filled with an abundance of high voltage sap. This sap, if the gardener is allergic to sap, will cause him and about 75 per cent of the people who come in contact with it, to break out in millions of tiny little blisters about the hands, arms, face, neck, legs, or any other part of the anatomy that was exposed.

Ivy Flourishes Here

Adams County is one of many localities in the nation where three-leaf ivy flourishes. It can be found springing up in flower beds, along lawn fences and even under front steps. Frequently, cutting it seems to encourage growth and propagation, and there are any number of people who will attest to this fact. Modern week-killers have been known to eliminate it in some cases, but heaven help the individual with allergies if he gets within five feet of it, because, in the process of killing the root the chemical causes such exaggerated growth that the plant is able to reach out and grab its victim with the tips of its leaves. And the guy with the allergy is a dead duck in almost every sense of the word. As a matter of fact, within 48 hours he prays that he will soon see pink clouds and sparkling halos.

Persistent Itching

Ben Franklin was probably one of the first persons in America to record the agonies of ivy poisoning. He described it as being "persistent, and itching like the very —!" According to one version of Franklin's life the colonists even contemplated using the plant to plague the Indians into forgetting their fighting habits by inserting lots of big, healthy, sap-filled stalks in the blankets they were sending to the outlying trading posts. This particular book, however, failed to elaborate on whether this was merely a suggestion made by a recent sufferer or whether it was attempted. It is reasonably safe to assume, though, that if this method of "germ warfare" was used it was

ROMULO SEEKS PRESIDENCY

MANILA (AP)—Carlos P. Romulo has resigned as the Philippines ambassador to Washington and chief delegate to the United Nations and said he would seek the administration Liberal party's nomination for president.

President Elpidio Quirino has announced that he will be a candidate for renomination in the convention which opens May 24.

"We will fight it out in the convention," Romulo said tonight after handing his resignation to Quirino.

There have been mounting reports that Romulo would resign his government posts and bid for the Liberal party's nomination to run against Ramon Magsaysay, former defense secretary, in the November presidential election.

Romulo, former president of the U. N. General Assembly, told his supporters earlier Thursday: "The die is cast, this is my one and only chance."

BERLIN (AP)—The U. S. High Commission newspaper Nue Zeitung said Thursday Franz Dahle, one of the big five of East Germany's Communist Politburo, has been arrested in a new purge.

a complete failure because the Indians undoubtedly had a cure that worked!

Notre Dame To Give Degree To Kennan

George F. Kennan, former U. S. Ambassador to Russia, who has been spending much time since his return to the U. S. last fall at his East Berlin farm, will receive an honorary degree from the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind., today. Mr. Kennan is one of six who will receive honorary degrees at a special convocation marking the dedication of the new I. A. O'Shaughnessy $2,000,000 hall on the Notre Dame campus.

Mr. Kennan and Dr. Gordon K. Chalmers, president of Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, will deliver addresses at the convocation.

Degrees also will be conferred also on Sister M. Madeleva, president of St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Ind.; Jerome G. Kerwin, professor of political science, University of Chicago; Daniel Sargent, South Natick, Mass., author and educator, and the Rev. Howard Kenna, C.S.C., president of Holy Cross College, Washington, D. C.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House Thursday received an alternate tax program that would balance the commonwealth's budget but Republican leaders disavowed its sponsorship.

The separate levies consist of a merchantile tax, a penny boost in the state's four-cent cigarette tax, and a 5 per cent hotel room occupancy tax.

There were 1,466,000,000 bushels of corn on U. S. Farms April 1, 1953.

IKE TO REPORT TO NATION NEXT TUESDAY ON AIR

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's decision to report to the nation by radio next Tuesday emphasized today deep Republican concern about public reaction to continued deficit spending and possible tax cut relays.

In what the late Franklin D. Roosevelt called a fireside chat, Eisenhower will take to the air waves to tell why his GOP administration can't balance the federal budget now.

There were some reports—not verified at the White House — he might call for an extension of present high taxes despite Congress' obvious distaste for any such recommendation.

On All Networks

What he has to say about the progress of Korean truce negotiations, if anything, may depend on developments.

The President told a White House news conference yesterday he will speak on the interrelated problems of national security, the budget and expenditures. The White House announced later the speech will be carried by all major networks from 9:30 to 10 p. m. EST.

It will be the President's first report to the nation from the White House, a distinguished from broadcast speeches to live audiences. He said it will be followed about a week later by an informal televised discussion of the purposes which have guided his administration and what he thinks it has accomplished.

Probable Topics

One of Eisenhower's objectives in the two talks apparently will be to assure the country that its basic military security will not be damaged by promised spending slashes.

At the same time, he is expected to try to explain why it might be dangerous to cut deeply enough into the arms funds now to eliminate red ink spending and achieve the balanced budget goal he has said is a major objective of his administration.

SECRET ROCKET PLANE, 2 LOST MEN SOUGHT

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—United States and Canadian aircraft is resuming the search for a top-secret experimental plane and two Bell Aircraft Corp. employees lost over Lake Ontario.

Little hope was held of finding Bell's chief test pilot and a flight engineer alive.

An air search by a Bell helicopter was decided Wednesday night after reports came in that a farmer had sighted two objects floating in the lake about two miles off shore from Kendall, N. Y.

2,000 Mile Per Hour
But a Bell spokesman expressed doubt that it could be the wreckage of the X2, a plane believed capable of flying in the 2,000 mile per hour speed range. The X2 never has flown under its own power.

The X2 was dropped from a B50 mother ship Tuesday night between Rochester, N. Y., and Trenton, Ont., while on a routine test flight at 30,000 feet. The plane fell after an explosion damaged it.

Bell's chief test pilot, Jean L. (Skip) Ziegler, 33, and an engineer, Frank Wolko, 33, fell, jumped or were blown out of the mother ship. Another crewman suffered burns. Six others returned safely on the B50.

DULLES LEAVES FOR JORDAN ON PEACE MISSION

JERUSALEM (AP)—John Foster Dulles left Israel Thursday for Jordan and expressed hope his talks here and in Cairo would help the United States improve "the climate peace and security in the Middle East for peace and security in the Middle East against Communism."

The U. S. Secretary of State and his party, including Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen, crossed into Jordan territory through Mandelbaum Gate in this divided city. Dulles conferred for an hour and a half here with Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion. He met also with the ministers of trade and finance and some of the country's top economists.

Give No Details

A statement given to newsmen said Israeli-American and future Israeli-Arab relations were among subjects discussed, but gave no details. The Israelis were expected to ask Dulles to support efforts to reach a permanent peace with their Arab neighbors. Dulles has said a Jewish-Arab agreement is essential to joint defense of the Middle East against Communism.

Dulles arrived in Israel Wednesday from Cairo, where Egyptians put their demands for complete evacuation of British troops from the Suez ahead of any consideration of a joint Middle East defense command.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Thursday he has no objection to a conference of top leaders of the major powers, but that he would first like to see some evidence of good faith from the Soviet Union.

TO THE VOTERS OF ADAMS COUNTY:

I have offered myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Adams County. I do so with the satisfaction of knowing that I am qualified both by moral character and having been employed as a guard in the State Prison.

It is true that I was not born in Adams County but when I settled here I did so with the intention of making this my permanent home and to live and die in this county. I have raised and educated my family here and my candidacy for Sheriff is further manifestation of my desire to sink my roots deeper into local soil.

I cannot bring myself to believe that the good people of Adams County will turn their backs on a man with such intentions. I do not believe the people of Adams County consider a county office the inherent right of a small compact group, so compact in fact, that the office has to be rotated among a few individuals and families.

If the good people of Adams County see fit to elevate me to this office they will have conferred upon me an honor for which I shall be everlastingly grateful and I will endeavor to execute the duties thereof in a manner worthy of their confidence and trust.

I promise that if elected I will not seek to succeed myself.

DEGREE FOR IKE FROM COLLEGE IN WILLIAMSBURG

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—President Eisenhower, faced with crises of his own, came to historic Williamsburg today to be honored and make a speech on the anniversary of another critical time in the nation's history.

Eisenhower came down by water from Washington aboard the Presidential yacht Williamsburg. He came here to receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree—along with Virginia Gov. John S. Battle—from the college of William and Mary.

But he planned to utilize the last cruise of the yacht for a week end on Chesapeake Bay, including a visit to the Norfolk Naval Base and the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., and a chance to confer with staff advisers on the radio address he will deliver Tuesday night on taxes and the budget. The yacht will be turned back to the Navy after this trip for decommissioning as a needless luxury.

Virginia Sen. Harry F. Byrd and Sen. A. Willis Robertson, both Democrats, were in the Presidential party aboard the yacht. Mrs. Eisenhower also was along, as were the President's mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud; a sister-in-law, Mrs. George Gordon Moore; and Presidential Secretaries James C. Hagerty and Thomas E. Stephens.
